CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

This research was descriptive research with qualitative method which songs as a source of data. the researcher collected the data by note taking technique. There were three things that could be concluded in this research. First, idiomatic expression found in’ Bruno Mars’s song in’ Doo Woops Hooligans Album. Secondly, types of idiomatic expression found in Bruno Mars’s song in Doo Woops Hooligans Album. It was used Baker’s theory. The researcher found ten idiomatic expressions based on types of idiomatic has chose. The first, expression which violate truth conditions form i.e. when the stars like up my room, talking to the moon, talk of the town,count on me like 1,2,3,count on you like 4,3,2 ,be the light to guide you, sail the world to find you,yourself stuck in the middle of the sea, and whole world stops and stares. The second, expression which seem ill-formed form i.e what you are searching for,what friends are supposed to do and we are made of. The last, expression which start with like form i.e. like they are not shining. The meaning of idioms in song lyrics at the album Doo-Woop Hooligans of Bruno Mars’s are contextual meaning. It could not be seen word by word but it should be understand as a whole of the words based on the context.
B. Suggestion

Based on the previous conclusion, there were two things that could be suggested from this research. First, the using of idiomatic expression should be related with the context in order to avoid miscommunication. It was to know expression which convey someone in communication. Second, the using of idiomatic expression of song could be used script or lyrics written by song writer. It can give guidance for people in using context when communicate with other people. So that, the researcher suggested for the next researchers to explore this research in a wider explanation about idiomatic expression on lyric of song or other literary works. Especially, for the students in this University. The researcher analyzed that this research still has several weaknesses in conducting the research. Thus, the researcher expected any critics and suggestions from the readers and also the next researchers to make it better.
